

Hello,

Here is a friendly reminder that your academic unit needs you to complete important action items and steps ahead of your course enrollment period. You will work with your advisers in your academic program to build your Spring 2025 schedule. Your school and faculty adviser will help you craft an academic plan that sets you up for success during your time at Pacific. The information you provide will help determine which courses are appropriate for you and your degree plan.

Steps to complete:

- < Submit high school transcripts
- < Take placement exams
- < Submit standardized test scores (SAT, ACT, AP, IB, TOEFL, etc.)

Your academic unit will start building your Spring 2025 schedule in late December or early January. When your schedule is ready, you will receive an email prompting you to schedule a 1:1 virtual appointment with your faculty adviser to discuss your schedule details.

Be sure to stay connected with the Orientation and Transition Programs team through the Orientation Instagram account throughout the winter we will post updates about Orientation and Week of Welcome events, tips for transitioning to the university, and important reminders.
